Report Highlights:

Hong Kong is a major export destination for high-value U.S. food and beverage products to Asia. Participation in Hong Kong trade shows in 2020 will provide a prominent platform for U.S. suppliers and exporters to promote their food and beverage products to buyers in Hong Kong and the region.

SECTION I. MARKET OVERVIEW

Hong Kong is a Special Administrative Region of the People’s Republic of China and has a population of more than seven million. Hong Kong is a regional trade and financial hub with a per capita gross domestic product (GDP) of nearly US$49,000 (2018).

As the 5th largest export market for U.S. consumer-oriented agricultural products by value, Hong Kong is a natural destination to promote high-quality, innovative U.S. food and beverage products to regional buyers.

Not only is it a strong destination for U.S. food and beverage exports, but Hong Kong is also a free port that excels as an efficient logistics hub in moving goods to other Asian markets, including Macau and Mainland China. Hong Kong is visa-free for citizens of nearly 170 countries and maintains food and beverage import procedures that are overwhelmingly based on international standards. For the first 10 months of 2019, Hong Kong imports of consumer-oriented agricultural products from the world reached US$16 billion, amongst which over 42 percent (US$6.8 billion) were re-exported to other regional markets.

Hong Kong is an excellent platform for U.S. exporters and suppliers of high-value food and beverages to promote their products to potential buyers at trade shows. In addition to its bevy of trade show opportunities, Hong Kong also serves a very important role in regional trade as a showcase to Asian buyers who know that if the product sells well in Hong Kong, it will do well in their market as well.
